

Proposed Ballast Loading Quay construction.

You may know that Brett Aggregates are proposing to construct a new Jetty from the Northeast bank of the Colne, downriver from Alresord Creek, projecting from the shore to the deep-water channel close to buoys 17 and 20. If you want to know more about this, you will need to look at the Essex County Council website for details of the proposal - you can find it at : www.essexcc.gov.uk; then follow links to living/planning/minerals and waste policy. The reference for the proposed site is D4, and it is in the area of Moverons Farm. The proposal has gone through the preliminary allocation stage, but a Planning Application is likely soon.

Since it will have an impact on the river, all members will no doubt be interested to find out more.
